MEDIA ADVISORY

National Academy of Public Administration President and CEO Terry Gerton
To Appear Before Senate Homeland Security & Govt. Affairs Subcommittee Roundtable on “Case Studies in Personnel Management Reform in Federal Agencies”

WASHINGTON, DC – National Academy of Public Administration President and CEO Terry Gerton will appear tomorrow before the U.S. Senate Homeland Security and Government Affairs Subcommittee on Regulatory Affairs and Federal Management to participate in a roundtable titled, “Case Studies in Personnel Management Reform in Federal Agencies.”

The roundtable will explore two Academy case studies – on the Federal Aviation Administration and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention – that have resulted in improved personnel management performance. The subcommittee will seek the Academy’s perspective on lessons from these case studies and ways to apply best practices across government. To learn more, visit:
